

Hospice Care in Assisted Living

Working together to provide the best possible care

Team collaboration

The resident's primary care physician and our hospice medical director work closely with your team to provide compassionate care during the end-of-life journey. This ensures we are able to get the necessary orders for medications and therapies, which helps manage symptoms and keep your resident comfortable. Our goal is to honor each patient's unique needs and wishes while supporting you in providing the same dedicated care to all your residents.

Caregiver education

Our team partners with assisted living caregivers, providing specialized end-of-life education to ensure seamless, high-quality care and symptom relief. Together, we will create a compassionate and comfortable experience for each individual.

Family support

When your team needs support in guiding a resident's family at the end of life, we're here to help. Our team can assist with family dynamics, provide spiritual care, and offer education to ensure loved ones feel supported every step of the way.

Medical equipment and supplies

You don't have to worry about coordinating medical equipment or covering the cost—our team handles it all. Hospice services include necessary supplies at no additional expense, easing the burden for both you and the resident.

Payment

Hospice care is covered by Medicare, Medicaid, and most private insurance plans. It does not impact the resident's payment to your assisted living community. Our team works directly with the patient and their family to understand coverage and ensure they receive the care they need.
